DiGest Forte – Good Health Begins in the Gut

Support Your Gut, Support Your Health

More than 2,000 years ago, Hippocrates, the father of modern medicine, recognized the importance of the gut to good health. Traditional Chinese medicine and Ayurveda also consider digestion to be a key factor influencing our health.

Today, science verifies that the foods we eat and how well we digest them can affect the way we feel, think and behave. The gastrointestinal tract has even been called the second brain. Just think how often we make decisions based on our “gut feelings”.

To give your digestion and appetite vital natural support, take MediHerb’s DiGest Forte with confidence.*

What is DiGest Forte?

New research has identified bitter receptors, involved in many of the body’s metabolic processes, throughout the digestive tract.

Based on these important discoveries, MediHerb has formulated DiGest Forte to provide a broader range of bitter principles to interact with more bitter receptors to help stimulate digestive enzymes and support healthy digestion.*

This powerhouse complex includes Gentian root, Ginger rhizome, Wormwood herb, Feverfew leaf and Tangerine fruit peel and fruit peel cold-pressed essential oil.

Gentian is a major bitter tonic, prized in European and Eastern herbal medicine for centuries. Bitters have a lengthy history of use, a custom still seen today in the enjoyment of a pre-dinner aperitif.*

Ginger is one of the world’s favorite spices, regarded in the Ayurvedic tradition as an effective digestion aid.*

Wormwood contains compounds known to stimulate digestion by supporting liver and gallbladder function. Feverfew has long been used in traditional and folk medicine, while Tangerine peel is commonly used in Chinese medicine to support a healthy digestive tract.*

Who Needs DiGest Forte?

Adults of any age who need assistance with digestion and/or need to improve their intestinal function may benefit from safe, effective and natural DiGest Forte.*

How is MediHerb’s DiGest Forte Unique?

DiGest Forte is a uniquely well-combined supplement, formulated to offer the benefits of top quality ingredients including organically grown Gentian and Wormwood.*

Manufactured in Australia, to the rigorous standards of international pharmaceutical Good Manufacturing Practice, its quality and safety are assured. MediHerb meticulously tests the raw materials we use, to deliver an efficacious product that provides the best possible outcomes.*
